A+W Business functions

A+W Business is a complete ERP system for the flat glass industry.

A+W's commercial solution does not only permit the entry of quotations, orders, credit notes, complaints, delivery notes and the management of purchase orders and enquiries but also the control of other business areas (e.g. inventory, purchasing, dispatch, etc.). The main functions are: Master data management, handling of quotations, order processing, creation of partial shipments and complaints, and the creation of all necessary documents.

The core question for the A+W team while developing A+W Business has been: How can we support our customers in working faster, more elegantly, more target-oriented, and generally more productive? The result is impressive: The present version shows considerable improvement in terms of ergonomics, transparency, and user-friendliness. A+W Business comes as a multi-dialog application, i. e. several dialogs – such as quotation-, order-, and additional master data dialogs – can be opened and edited at the same time; menus and dialogs can be positioned at random and adjusted in size by a mere mouse-click. The new editor can handle complex document formats and the report functions meet even sophisticated requirements. The fully graphic user interface of A+W Business is operated intuitively and helps to make internal order processing much easier.

The system offers extensive technical support for order processing. All entered elements are displayed true to scale immediately and are visualized to avoid input errors and to speed up the overall process. Pricing with A+W Business is very flexible and allows the definition of a large variety of standard prices and customized terms. Calculation is an automatic process but does allow for manual amendments.

Modules:

A+W CAD Designer

A+W Barcode Manager

A+W Logistics Optimizer

A+W Discovery

A+W Sharepoint DMS

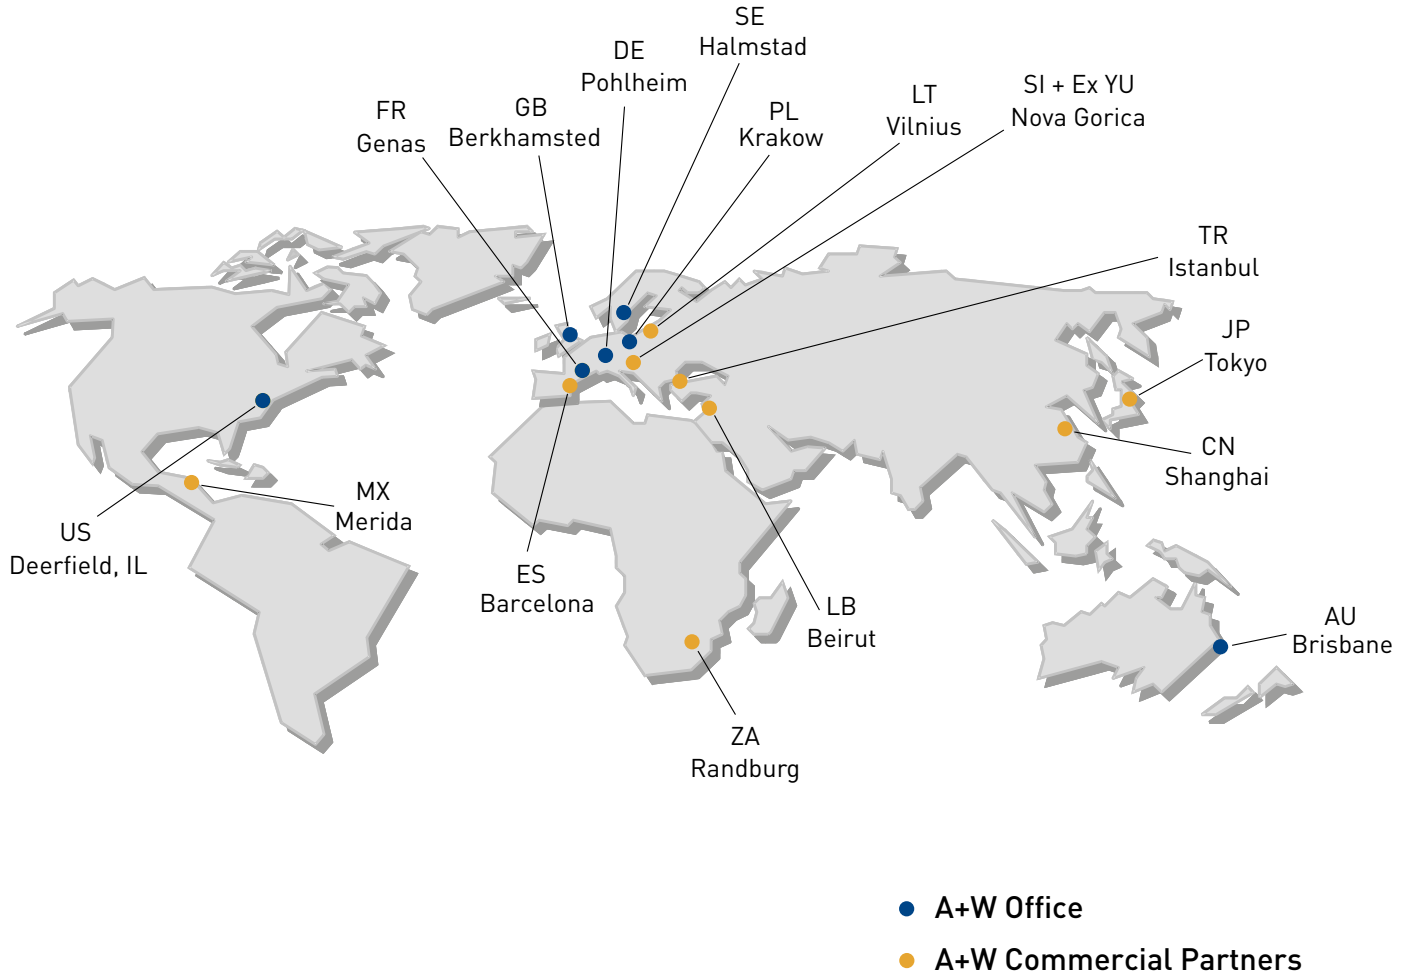

In connection with the A+W Production suite, production information is also available in A+W Business; customer's enquiries can be answered quickly and accurately.

The A+W Business package can be extended by the following options: An EDI solution, extended CAD functions, internal rack management, Microsoft Outlook connection, plus interfaces with various financial accounting and document management systems. In addition, evaluations in the shape of reports and statistics can be drawn up as decision-making aids for the management.

Your Benefits:

- Outstanding usability and clarity
- Time and cost savings thanks to automation in the processing of orders and offers
- Multitasking thanks to the possibility to process several dialogs (orders/offers) at the same time
- Prevention of errors and quick processing thanks to graphical user interface
- Use of a standardized system in different countries and for users who speak different languages thanks to Unicode capability
- Easy and quick reports and analyses thanks to Crystal Reports connection, an integrated statistics module, and the possibility to connect to A+W Discovery
- System adaptation to your company's increasing requirements thanks to modular structure and scalability (for example A+W Business Pro, capacity planning, production data acquisition)
